INUSRCENTS IN CONTROL OF THE SENATE.

By No Means Certain That The Capitol Will Be Removed.

TEAM OF WILD HORSES.

State Politics Cropping Out In the Progress of the Session.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 18.—Both houses of the General Assembly broke bounds yesterday, and at the end of the session the obstructionists had gained such an advantage that it now seems almost a certainty that the extra session will last for at least forty days, and perhaps the full sixty days which is allowed under the law. The members who object to a change of location and those who want the capital removed from Frankfort, are so numerous, and put forward so many dilatory resolutions, that it is certain that long delay will follow, and that before any bill is passed either house, many days will be consumed in debate, with a chance that at the end nothing at all will have been accomplished.

Nearly Committed Itself.

The Senate almost declared itself in favor of a resolution throwing back on the people the whole question of the Capitol location, submitting to the people at the next election an amendment to the constitution which will specify where the Capitol shall be located, and but for the fact that the chairman ruled it out of order it would probably have been adopted. The sentiment in the Senate, as strongly expressed by a number of the members, showed that the prospects of passing any bill which will leave in the hands of the Capitol Commission the question of a location are very slim.

A bill was introduced in the House leaving the selection of the site to the Capitol Commission. During the session of the House, Attorney General Hayes appeared before it. In his speech he took occasion to criticize the Capitol Commission in several particulars.

He was asked about the selection of an architect, and hinted that something wrong had been done in selecting F. M. Andrews, saying that he knew of forty men who could have done the work as well for much less money.

Cantrill's Suggestion.

A boom for the erection of the capital of the Feeble Minded Institute property was started today in the Senate by a speech by Senator Campbell Cantrill, who took occasion to compliment Governor Beckman. The plan to overcome the lack of water supply is to erect a pumping station which will supply the Capitol as well as the Feeble Minded Institute and the penitentiary. It has met with favor in the Senate as well as the House, and is now being talked of on all sides. The property is owned by the State.

Easy Sailing.

The Indiana legislature elected two United States Senators. Senator Albert J. Beveridge succeeds himself and Representative James A. Hemway succeeds Vice President elect Fairbanks. Both Senators received the unanimous vote of their party, which has a large majority in the two houses.

Jolted The Sticks.

Two men were blown to pieces and four others were dangerously injured near Bedford, Ind., by an explosion of dynamite in a box on which they were sitting. The victims were returning in a spring wagon after their day's labor near Bedford.

EARNEST APPEAL TO FARMERS.

To Stand Shoulder to Shoulder in The Fight For Protection.

LIKE ARMY OF JAPS.

The Contest Must Determine The Future Prosperity of Tobacco Growers.

The Clarksville Leaf Chronicle in a well written article describes the tobacco situation so thoroughly that we reproduce the greater part of the article. It urges that the farmers began their fight none too soon, comparing the present movement to the fight Japan is working against the encroachments of Russia. It says the farmers a few years ago had open tobacco markets, many buyers and strong competition. They obtained fair prices for their labor and the country and the towns in the midst thereof all prospered and were happy. But finally we have come to the age of money-getting—get money any way you can—the few making great fortunes by sharp practices, schemes and tricks, by which a few organized with capital can rob and oppress thousands of people. This great tobacco trust, headed by James B. Duke and Ferigo, representing some $850,000,000 and credit, has gone to all the markets, made contracts for the delivery of the great money staple of the section, and driven out competition. No one not under the protective wing of this trust in some way will dare bid against it for the weed because he cannot get over or get around this powerful combination to any tobacco market in the world, and must sell to the trust at a loss for his temerity in opposing or bidding against the combine.

The farmers were forced to sell the 1903 crop at below the cost of production and the combine was on hand to take the 1904 crop for still less, notwithstanding the crop is ascertained to be some 60,000,000 pounds short and the consumption increasing beyond the producing capacity of the country.

It is a well-understood maxim that with the decline in prices for tobacco must come the corresponding reduction in the value of land. Then it follows that farmers raising tobacco below the cost of production will become involved in debt, and mortgage their land at a low valuation for subsistence and numerous expenses. Finally these lands must be sold and the trust magnates will be the ready purchasers, making sycophants and slaves of the former owners, to be hired cheap to raise tobacco under trust instruction and management.

Is there a man among us so stupid as not to observe the tendency of the situation and the final outcome if the reign of the trust is not broken and the heartless, avaricious corporations downed and driven out of the trade?

We have seen in print and heard much talk of the valuable soil surveys promoted by the Agricultural Department for the benefit of farmers. But has it occurred to the public that the tobacco trust in disguise has been all the while urging these surveys that they might discover the most valuable lands for producing certain types of tobacco, and buy such lands cheap in large bodies, which has been tried in some localities for producing fine cigar tobacco. But they have not been able to find a spot of land anywhere that will produce the peculiar and valuable types grown in our black patch of some fifteen or twenty counties. Consequently it is our tobacco they want and must have, and their hearts are set on it.

THE CITY BANK.

CAPITAL - - - $60,000.
Surplus and Undivided Profits, - $70,000.

The surplus of this bank, every dollar of which has been earned, is larger than that of all other Banks in Christian county combined, and in proportion to capital, ranks among the very first in whole State of Kentucky.

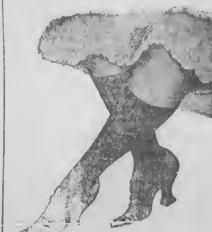

Hence, they are determined to break up the farmers' organization by any means that can be employed. Consequently the country is full of agents, men who ought to have a common sympathy for the farmers, doing all they can to sow the seeds of discord, destroy confidence and faith in the movement, telling all sorts of bare-faced lies and foraging on these very men whom they are all the time helping the trusts to destroy. How do these men size up by the side of the plucky little Japs who stand for freedom, the honor of their country, their homes, homes and firesides, sharing the fate of their own people. Every man in this section understood the situation in the beginning and encouraged the farmers in organizing. It was a free, open thing, every man stood upon his honor and signed off his own free will without cost or compulsion. It was understood that when 70 per cent. signed, and not without 70 per cent. Now 85 per cent. have been signed, and this makes it morally binding by every tie that binds man to man—a fellow helper for the good of all, upon every man who grows tobacco whether he joins or not. Just upon the same principle that the Japanese are, man to man, fighting to the death of every man in the land. If the organized farmers whip in this great contest, as they must, or go down, to finally be robbed of their homes and life-time earnings, these so-called independents will share with them or go down to the same fate. Are they not honorably bound to stand by their brethren?

Surely the Lord is in the movement. So far every circumstance has contributed to the help of the farmers. But the enemy is still abroad in the land in every conceivable disguise, and every farmer must buckle on the whole armor and fight to the death—listen to no trust romancing. You can carry this crop for another year if need be, and when the trust finds it cannot break the organization, then it will come begging for it all the farmers' prices. Stand your ground, men, and stand off the army of trust agents as you would so many vipers. So men, there are sycophants and so bent on making a little ready money by serving the trust, that they consider not what their own fate must finally be. The farmers are organized, standing shoulder to shoulder, ready and willing to suffer for a time if need be, to help to bring about that which awaits the faithful. Bear in mind that the organization holds the enemy's position, and need not burn the crop as the cotton planters are doing to beat the Wall street tricksters. Hold the crop at a reasonable price until the 85 per cent. turn loose, and the victory is surely won, and great will be the consequences, something worth sacrificing for.

TO OUR FARMER FRIENDS . . . .

Clarksville, Tennessee, January 3rd, 1906. This crop of tobacco, being of better quality and shorter in average yield, are two reasons for expecting better prices. Besides, full confidence as to the final outcome, may be based upon the wise conclusion of the farmer to prize and put his tobacco in condition for the best market value to be found in the open markets. The forces of combines who have ignored open markets in order to fix lower prices in the country is broken, and we predict an era of greater prosperity will come to tobacco growers. The farmers will not regret the move they have made, and the more compact their organization, the greater their influence.

For the past year past, we solicit the patronage of farmers. As heretofore, our best efforts in their behalf can safely be relied upon. Our warehouse is open day and night, and provided with good, comfortable free quarters for teams and teamsters under the same roof.

New York.—By its annual report, just submitted, the committee on accidents, of the Society for the Investigation of the Unexpected, has shown that while the triviality of the causes producing tragic results and otherwise during the year ending December 1, 1904, says the Herald, of this city.

"Never before," says the committee, "have little things been so prominent a factor in important affairs as this year. A very careful investigation into almost numberless cases has shown that instead of the great passions, love and hate, that were the primary things that have held the center of the stage."

The committee instances "murders," and, among them acknowledging that such killings do not necessarily merit the title of unexpected, yet they are only surpassed by the number they might have caused," says the committee.

"There is on record a case in Dubuque, Iowa, where the accidental dropping of salt in ice cream resulted in a homicide which broke up a silver wedding. There is another case in which a statement that 'My first wife, Emma, had been killed by salt' was the cause of such a fierce quarrel that the couple were separated for a time.

Such cases are not infrequent.

As a wonder at making soup brought on a calamity.

"There are many cases where a refusal to dance with one man and the acceptance of another, or the refusal to accept the advances of a woman, resulted in an affray. A hulky horse brought on a feed in Kentucky, because one of the feeders happened to laugh at the efforts of the other to start the horse. Beams have caused murder this year, and so have grapes and other vegetables and fruits, while the casualty list due to watermelons is very large, particularly in the southern states after dark."

So far as suicides are concerned, the list, the report says, is equally large and trivial. "We lost count of the number of cases of self-destruction because the person committing the suicide disappeared in public or some portion of the dress had become undone. We hate to think of how many, principally women, have speeded themselves because somebody else was five minutes late, ten minutes late or did not show up at all, or because cold or scorching or scurvy arguments or intercessions or many other things."

"So far as the laziness is concerned," continues the report, "we have no record of any married man adopting such extreme measures. It is a good thing, or perhaps there would not be any married men."

"Then there is the record of where a street car caused a young man to die all alone. He was not struck by the car, but in a western town he rode until he espied a young woman whom he was much enamored of, thinking she was a widow, and cast himself off the car to win her over. From the car he swam himself gracefully off a rear step to alight on an unsuspected slippery spot. The spectacle of a flying hat, flying heels and eyeglasses, to say nothing of the further act of the slippery spot on the light summer suit, caused the young woman to laugh. Being supersensitive, the youth in question went home to do his rash act."

One broken pen caused a similar act.

A young man in New Madrid, Miss., took the only pen available to write a note inviting a young woman to receive him on a moonlight excursion. The pen broke, and there was not another to be had.

As a result the young woman received another invitation before the young man could get down town and purchase a new pen.

When there are accidents the commonest fairies revel in small things—ants, one flea, birds, all kinds of animals, from mice and moles up to goats, they say caused troubles of the unexpected kind all over the world.

A giddy young woman, one bumble bee, a dress suit case, an innocent Berkshire pig, many puppets, a picture frame, a strand of blonde hair (not domestic), the cough of a boy in church, seven polliwogs, the wink of an eye, a garden snake, a tattooed man, a dog, a rabbit, and a few tired of country bananas and orange juice, say nothing of the slippery gangplank, the sensitive beat,

the broken car blade and the tin can.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

The more Magazines there are, the more

Indispensable is The Review of Reviews

• "Indispensable." "The one magazine I feel I must take." "The world under a field-glass." "An education in public affairs and current literature." These are some of the phrases one hears from people who buy the Review of Reviews, because it brings together the best that is in all the most important monthlies of the world. Such is the flood of periodical literature now, however, people say that the only way to keep up with it is to buy the Review of Reviews. Above the review section, it has more original matter and illustrations than most magazines, and the most timely and important articles printed in any monthly.

Probably the most useful section of all is Dr. Albert Shaw's department, "Programs and Events," and it is indispensable to anyone interested in every issue. Many readers write, "This department alone worth more than the price of the magazine." The unique cartoon department, depicting current history in caricature, is another favorite. The Review of Reviews covers five continents, and yet American, first and foremost. Millions of Americans like the Review of Reviews, and the great captains of industry who must keep "up with the times," intelligent men and women all over America, have decided that it is "indispensable."

The Weather.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—For Kentucky—Rain and warmer tonight. Thursday rain.

The French ministry headed by Premier Combes will shortly resign in a body.

Former Senator Thos. H. Carter of Montana was this week again elected, to succeed Senator Paris Gibson Democrat.

The Cynthiana Democrat, edited by Mr. J. M. Allen, one of the best weekly papers in Kentucky, is out in a nice new dress.

The Trigg county Democrats will hold their primary April 1st, to nominate a county ticket, and somebody is sure to be April fooled.

May Yohé, the actress is about to get a divorce from her latest husband, Putnam Bradley Strong, in New York.

Maude Gonne MacBride, the Irish Joan of Arc, is seeking a divorce from her dissolute husband, Major MacBride. The court will have to decide which parent shall have custody of their child.

John M. Harlan will be the Republican candidate for Mayor of Chicago. Mayor Carter H. Harrison and Judge E. F. Dunne are spoken of for the Democratic nomination.

Russia has called China to account for violations of neutrality laws and we may be drawn into the threatening trouble. It is hinted that China may demand protection from the United States.

The United States Supreme Court has ordered a new trial of the case of Senator Burton, of Kansas, convicted of accepting a fee from the Rialto Grain Company. The reversal turns on the place of payment of the money.

Nixon, Republican, has been elected Senator from Nevada to succeed Stewart, Republican. Not much is known of the new Senator, except that he is a banker, but "Nixon of Nevada" is not only alliterative but euphonious.

The judgment at Paducah this week for $25,000 against the I. C. Railroad, for the death of a young woman who was killed while walking on the railroad's right of way, was not only excessive but apparently unjust. Railroads should be given the same rights that private corporations are conceded. When one jury in Kentucky gives a verdict of only $8,000 for a conspiracy of individuals to commit deliberate murder, and another jury in the same month gives $25,000 damages against a railroad for an accident on its own property, that was seemingly unavoidable, there is something radically wrong either with the laws or the juries. Why not eliminate prejudice and try all such cases on their merits?

A President's Mother

Madam Loubet, mother of the President of the French Republic, died this week aged 93 years at her little farmhouse, near Valence where she was born in the reign of Napoleon. She was unlettered and poor and never visited a larger city than Valence. Not even when her son became President would she leave her home to visit him in Paris. Men of note from all over France attended her funeral.

The antipathy displayed by Madame Loubet to travel has a counterpart in this country. There is living in the Northern part of Christian country an old lady, now more than 70 years of age, who has never been ten miles from the place where she was born. She has never been to Hopkinsville and was never in a town larger than Kirkmansville. She never heard a band play until a few years ago when a band wagon campaign was made in North Christian. Railroads, electric lights and three-story houses are wonders scarcely dreamed of by this good old lady, who is a grand-mother many times over.

In spite of the report affecting his integrity, the Republican Legislature of Missouri on Tuesday elected Thos. K. Neidhardt to the Senate to succeed Cockrell, Democrat. Only two Republicans drew the line at his method of trading legislation for campaign funds.

Opposition to the plans of the State Administration in regard to changing the capitol location is probably an outgrowth of the Beckham-Blackburn controversy. Senator Blackburn is now in Frankfort and announced that he will reply to the Governor's statement.

Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one, for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Linton of Pittsburgh, "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I am as well as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at R. C. Hardwick's drug store; price 50c.

To the Afflicted.

Have you corns, bunions or ingrowing toenails? If so why not have them attended to at once? W. W. Gray, the West Seventh street barber and chiropodist removes corns without pain and makes a permanent cure. He also successfully treats bunions. Call at his shop or telephone him if you prefer treatment at your home.

For Diplomas.

The examination for graduation in the Common Schools will be held on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 27 and 28, 1905, beginning at 9 o'clock a. m. To be entitled to receive a Diploma the applicant must receive a general average of 75 and have no mark under 60; the questions include Spelling, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Grammar, Composition, Geography, History of United States and Kentucky, Physiology, and Civil Government. Parents and teachers should be interested in having the boys and girls take this examination and receive the Diploma. I would be glad if those who expect to come would notify me that I may arrange for a place to hold the examination. Katie McDaniel, Co. Supt.

The Tyro Out.

The Tyro, the monthly paper issued by the girls of Hopkinsville Public School, came out for January yesterday, showing a decided improvement over the previous very creditable issues.

The baby's mother, Mrs. George Johnson, died recently and left a baby premature born, which after her untimely death is developing life and strength by artificial means, an incubator having been constructed for the purpose. The little one at last accounts was thriving as well as could be expected, and Mrs. Pickens has every hope of rearing the infant.

MISS LONG RECEIVES.

For Woman Killed by Train Near Dawson.

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 17.—A verdict for $25,000 damage was to-day awarded in the Circuit Court here to L. E. Stevenson, administrator for Lucy Stevenson, who was killed at Dawson by being knocked from a trestle two years ago. The case had been buffered about from Circuit to Federal Court for many months, and the verdict is one of the biggest verdict returned in some years.

She Is Mrs. Fruit.

In the announcement of the marriage of Miss Annie Fay Barnes, in our last issue, the surname of the groom was not given. The fortunate young man is Mr. Joseph Thomas Fruit. He appeared in the report as Joseph Thomas. So the youthful bride is Mrs. Fruit instead of Mrs. Thomas.

Forced to Starve.

B. F. Leek, of Concord, Ky., says: "For a year I suffered agonies with a sore on my upper lip, painful, sometimes that I could not eat. After vainly trying everything else, I cured it with Bucklin's Arnica Salve." It's great for burns, cuts and wounds. At R. C. Hardwick's drug store, only 25c.

Porter, Dr. C. R. Crouch and W.
F. Buckner.

OF UNUSUAL MERIT

Is Organization, Which Appears at Tabernacle
Jan. 27.

The Well-Greenawalt Unique Musical Company (formerly The As-team Trio) is one of the most novel, versatile and accomplished organizations before the public. There is not a dull or tedious moment from the beginning of the program to the end, and they understand how to win both the attention and enthusiasm of an audience. It is an entertainment to please everybody.

Opie Read, the novelist, penned the following: It is with pleasure that I recommend The Assteam Trio.

The combination is most artistic, and must appeal to the lovers of genuine music in every community.

The Spirit of Winter.

The Spirit of Winter is with us, making its presence known in many different ways—sometimes b y cheery sunshine and glittering snows and sometimes by driving winds and blinding storms. To many people it seems to take a delight in making bad things worse, for rheumatism twists harder, twinges sharper, catarrh becomes more annoying, and the many symptoms of scrofula are developed and aggravated. There is not much poetry in this, but there is truth, and it is a wonder that more people don't get rid of these ailments. The medicine that cures them—Hood's Sarsaparilla—is easily obtained and there is abundant proof that its cures are radical and permanent.

Distinguishing Himself.

Word comes that "King" Emmett Jones, who recently abdicated his sovereign throne in this city and became a farmer at Newstead, is distinguishing himself as an agricultural expert. It is no unusual thing for him to arise at 3:30 a.m. and ring the farm bell.

For the medicine chest or sideboard, I. W. HARPER Whisky is pre-eminently the family whisky—none better. Sold by W. R. Long, Hopkinsville, Ky.

BATTLE OF WORDS

Blackburn and Beckham Pummel Each Other.

Louisville, Jan. 16.—Senator
Blackburn and Governor Beckham are engaged in a wordy war. The debate started yesterday, when Senator Blackburn issued a card, in which he said:

I have no hesitancy in declaring my contempt for Beckham, his methods, his machine, and his conduct of party affairs. They are ruinous, and unless this machine is crushed it will wreck the Democrat party of the state. I do not want its acquisitiveness in my re-election.
The Kentucky machine is growing more and more odious every day, and will continue to do so until it is killed.

In reply to this Governor Beckham today issued a red hot statement, a part of which follows:

He (Blackburn) now recognizes
there is a formidable and honorable opposition to him in the state, and that the good people of Kentucky will this time in his case draw a proper distinction between voice and sense, volatility and statesmanship.

During the past five years he has tried in every way to destroy me. One reason probably of this hostility is because I did not employ his law firm of Blackburn & Blackburn, Washington, D. C., to collect the civil war claim.

Instead of giving any aid toward the collection of the claim, he had his law partner write me a letter asking that I contract with that firm for the collection of claims.

coughs and colds, which gave constant relief, and effected a permanent cure." Unequalled quick cure

ANDERSON'S GREAT CARPET SALE BEGINS MONDAY, JANUARY 23.

A few weeks ago Alex Smith & Sons, the largest carpet makers on earth, astonished the carpet world by announcing that they would sell their entire output at public auction. Four Millions of Dollars worth of Carpets and Rugs, made for the Spring trade of 1905, every pattern bright and new, to be sold under hammer without reservation, was a fact too big for the mercantile public to grasp. The New York Journal in commenting on the sale characterized it as "the most stupendous mercantile event the world has ever experienced." Mr. Anderson was the only merchant within a radius of 100 miles of Hopkinsville who attended the sale, and for six whole days he sat side by side with the biggest wholesalers in America and bought $25,000 worth of Carpets and Rugs at a saving of 15¢ to 50¢ per yard on Brussels, Axminster and Wilton Carpets, and 50¢ to $1 on small size Rugs and $2.50 to $7.50 on room-size Rugs. Below we give the exact list of prices we got for these same goods last month and quote prices we will ask for them Monday, January 23rd, and continue for ten days. Note every item and compare with what you have been paying. If you don't need the carpet now, take advantage of these saving prices and let us make it before the rush in the spring, and we will store them for you until you need them. We make prices to stimulate business in the dull month and give you our word that these prices cannot be had during the busy season. ### The Decline in Cotton.

The decline in cotton from seventeen and a half cents since last February to seven cents the last day in the year is not only a great surprise to many of the knowing ones, but it shows the largest if not the only decline in any product of the earth during 1904. The plan of the New York financiers to withdraw a million or more bales from the market, certificates in the same to be issued by trustees, is regarded here favorably as a wise and proper solution to keep the price of the staple to at least what it costs the producer. At any rate, it is by far a better plan than the burning of a million or more bales of the crop. The belief is that cotton will go to ten cents before the year is out.

The January Cosmopolitan.

The January "Cosmopolitan" appears in a new dress of type which is very attractive.

This issue, first of all, has done a real service to the country by printing Mr. David Graham Phillips' article "The Delusion of the Race-Track," in which he gives a very real and forceful picture of the corruption and evil resulting to the young men of America through patronage of the race-track. Following this comes an account of timely interest in view of the impending fall of Port Arthur.

Richard Maury has written a graphic account of the siege of Sebastopol, which in many respects resembles that of Port Arthur, and the text is illustrated from contemporary prints. But of still greater moment is a description of the battle of Iaia-Yang, last August, by a Japanese officer who was in the thick of fight. No report received from the seat of war has been so stirring, thus giving its remarkable picture of the horrors of war described in manner entirely novel to American readers, since it is permeated with the fatalistic attitude of the Japanese toward life.

Surrounding words are remarkable old sayings which he has had 115 years of experience to draw from, world interesting as well as profitable. A lengthy biographical sketch is given of this remarkable old man in the Waco Times-Herald, December 4, 1888. A still more pretentious biography of this, the centenarian, was given in a double column print, was given the readers of the Dallas Morning News, dated December 11, 1888, and also the Chicago-Times Herald of same date. This centenarian is an ardent friend of Peruna, having used it many years.
